DETAILED ACTION

1. Applicant's amendment and accompanying remarks filed October 31, 2006 are acknowledged.
2. The rejection of claims 10-14 under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph is withdrawn due to applicant's argument.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 10 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Anderson et al., U.S. Patent Number 5,830,548.

Anderson discloses an article of manufacture such as a fiberboard that comprises a fibrous such as hemp, ramie, jute or sisal (see reference claims 107, 128 and 146) material homogeneously mixed with a binder material such as polylactic acid (see reference claim 118). Column 10, lines 23-65 of the reference discloses that the fibers have a concentration in the range of 20% to 90% as per instant claim 14. Anderson's claims 137 and 139 disclose the tensile strength of the article ranging from 0.05 MPa to about 80 MPa and a density of greater than 1.5 g/cm³. The tensile strength of the Anderson reference reads on the tensile strength of 30 MPa or more for the present claims. Additionally, the density of the article of the Anderson reference reads on the density of 0.2 g/cm^3 for the present article (fiberboard). The Anderson reference has the same components as the present claims. Subjecting the fiberboard to a high temperature and high humidity is a process limitation and is not given any patentable weight. Therefore, the article of the Anderson reference is the same as the fiberboard of the present claims.

5. Claims 11-13 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 10-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
